"The creation of CENN has truly been a labor of love."

CENN grew out of caring for my father during his struggle with Parkinson's disease. Over the last 30 years, I have gravitated from being a staff nurse to the administration of health care. I obtained a national certification in case management and specialized in patients with brain injuries. I also have a Parish nurse certificate from Bon Secours and volunteer with the Alzheimer's Association. Being able to combine all of these skills offers a holistic approach to our clients care supporting their body, mind and spirit.

Kim Spangler, Owner
Chief Administrative Officer

I began my association with CENN, Inc. when my mother first became ill and required Home Health Care. In addition to being a mother of five children and four grandchildren, I fully understand the pressures placed on families caring for their aging parents. My background may reflect the world of business and finance, but my world actually reflects the spirit of CENN, Inc., where the art of caring hearts and hands is practiced daily.
